MAIL CALL AT SOMERSET HIGH

Here is a glimpse of the most important, the most exciting year of our high school life. On these pages will be preserved little everyday happenings, our daily routine of classes, assembly, clubs, and meetings, accented by special events.

Of course we cannot capture every moment; we cannot put on paper that feeling which comes from being a Senior—the thrill of winning a tough football game, the empty feeling when we heard the school Christmas carolers for the last time, the determination to keep our district basketball record intact, the pride we felt in our Senior Class Play, the intensity of our Tug-of-War rivalry with the Juniors, the helpless feeling when we were faced with writing and producing our Commencement pageant, the awesome pause at the end of an hilarious week of graduation fun, the final echo of the Alma Mater; but in these pages we shall try to preserve a record of the actions which are results of that feeling.

Life here at Somerset High will continue to change through the years. It will never be the same for future Seniors as it was for us. Only in our yearbook will it remain unchanged.

Special Delivery

A magnetic personality, a radiant smile, and diverse talents make up our friendly yearbook sponsor, Mrs. Phyllis Cindric. Six years ago we entered high school as timid, awe-struck seventh-graders. Mrs. Cindric proved to be our friend in need. As the years went by, we found her to be more than teacher. She was one to whom we turned with our problems—both scholastic and personal. It is with gratitude that we, the Seniors of 1952, dedicate our yearbook to the one person who has made this book what it is.

Revlon adds a dash of color.

Personalities

ADMINISTRATION . . . FACULTY . . . CLASSES

ADMINISTR A

GUY F. EBERHART
Supervising Principal

"Now what have you done?" greeted many of us as we came through the office door. It was often nothing serious, because we sometimes went to the office for advice, which we always received, no matter how busy the administration was. For us it was the last year, but for some members of the administration it was only the beginning. Mr. Eberhart began his new job as supervising principal, and Mr. Rininger became our new principal. What a great job they did! Last, but not least, was our office staff, whom we wish to thank for the consideration they have given us.

When we were Juniors, Mr. Eberhart came to be our principal, and everyone thought he was a wonderful fellow. We remember how he said that when we went to assembly we should sing the Star Spangled Banner with all the feeling possible. Mr. Eberhart really made some changes for the better.

Donald C. Rininger
Principal

In September, 1951, Mr. Rininger took over the position of principal and continued to make Somerset High School better so that the generations to come will find S. H. S. an even better place than we did. Mr. Rininger was once a teacher at Somerset, and therefore he could understand our problems and see our side of the questions that came up.

Our secretaries, Miss Kuffer, Mrs. Jarvis, and Miss Fodder always had a smile and a helpful hand to extend to us. No matter how many times we opened the door, they always put aside everything and came to our aid.

The school board consisted of a former teacher and a former principal of Somerset High School, and five other men who were interested in seeing that we as students had every opportunity to make good.

All in all our administration saw to it that the class of 1952 enjoyed their four years stay at Somerset High School tremendously.

Marjorie Ankney—home economics—Mrs. Ankney, a great nature lover, occupies her spare time trying out new recipes and sewing.

Lillias Boose—commercial subjects—Mrs. Boose's charm, neat appearance, and efficient manner set an excellent example for all who desire success in commercial fields.

Delores Bressler—geography, math—Just give this graduate of California State Teachers' College a nice steak or a good book, and she will be content.

George Bressler—history, P. D.—“You're Juniors now, and if you can't see the clearing ahead yet, there's something radically wrong,” is the philosophy of this sharply-dressed newly-wed.

Elizabeth Cerra—English—It's up to Mrs. Cerra to steer the green Freshmen through English. Her favorite pastime is caring for her cat, Hoti.

Blase Cindric—commercial subjects—This teacher with the sparkling personality believes laughter is great medicine.

Phyllis Cindric—English—Her clothes reveal her individualistic personality. Advisor of our year-book, she can usually be found helping in some extra activity.

Francis Cronauer—history, mechanical drawing—Mr. Cronauer hails from Portage, Pa. He attended Pitt and California State Teachers' College. His favorite spare time activity is tinkering with a car.

Richard Flick—metal shop—Mr. Flick, a graduate of California State Teachers' College and Penn State, can always be found working in our metal shop.

Jeanne Friedhofer—English—A swell teacher who's always on the go, Mrs. Friedhofer has Senior Class Play, Commencement, Student Council and many other successful undertakings chalked up to her credit.

Jacob Frysinger—mathematics—Mr. Frysinger is Somerset High's official projectionist. He claims to like every kind of food there is. Unexpected jokes keep his classes wide awake.

Pauline Glessner—guidance—Our well-informed guiding hand to the future enjoys traveling and gardening, but still finds time to help us with our problems.

Martha Halverson—librarian—Her main job is keeping the hard-working Seniors in line. She's the fount of all wisdom in the library.

Eleanor Hardy—physical education—Miss Hardy, our peppy gym teacher, is also the sponsor of the Pep Club. She is always on hand to give advice.

Roberta Hartman—art—Spaghetti and sports rate high with this graduate of Indiana State Teachers' College. In her leisure time she likes to knit.

Emma Hay—English, Latin—A new addition to Somerset from Rockwood High, Mrs. Hay likes to sew when she isn't teaching Latin.

Lorena Hebrank—English—While working for her Master's Degree at Penn State, Miss Hebrank flavors her work by reading and during vacations by traveling.

Quentin Hine—vocational agriculture—Sponsor of the Future Farmers of America, Mr. Hine is kept busy with his classes and the school farm.

Kathryn Holland—Spanish, history—This teacher considers her profession a pleasure. Her pastimes include swimming and baking. She's tops with her pupils.

Philip Holsinger—vocal music—Mr. Holsinger is well remembered all over the county for performances at County Chorus. He is one director who believes in giving everyone a chance.

Mary Ann Jock—commercial subjects—This always pleasant and friendly teacher was a great help in boosting our magazine sales. She is a graduate of Somerset High and Westminster College.

Rankin Jones—vocational coordinator—A latecomer from Greensburg, Mr. Jones replaced Mr. Wengert. When not teaching, he enjoys relaxing, with hunting a favorite sport.

Robert Kritzer—English, history—The romeo of the faculty is a track perfectionist from Michigan State. He's got everything . . . plus.

Edward Lloyd—vocational machine shop—A new member of our faculty who lives in Pittsburgh, where he attended evening school at Carnegie Tech. Mr. Lloyd is well liked by the shop boys.

Bessie Long—P. D., algebra—Because she is advisor of the National Honor Society and the Tri-Hi-Y besides being a marvelous teacher, Miss Long is a valuable asset to our school.

Lillian Long—school nurse—Miss Long is always very much in demand for any thing from headaches to broken bones.

Homer Mazer—vocational agriculture—A man with no dislikes who enjoys hunting, Mr. Mazer from Meyersdale likes teaching ag.

August C. McKee—civics—Mr. McKee is our efficient sponsor of the S. O. S. Sports rank high on his list of favorite pastimes. Oh, to be taking civics again!

Bernice Meyers—geography—Miss Meyers believes it is important to learn about the world before setting out to see it. Her left hand is heavy these days.

Charles Morocco—auto mechanics—Kept busy with the building of his new home, Mr. Morocco still finds time to help with scout work.

Llora Moyer—home economics—Mrs. Moyer is an all-around teacher with a love for classical music and a well written novel.

George O. Pfrogner—chemistry, physics—Our lab instructor is interested in dairy farming and turkey raising, and is always ready with an appropriate story or a surprise check test.

Robert Platt—driver's education—Mr. Platt, who turns out top-notch drivers from S. H. S. hails from Shanksville, Pa. He is always ready to watch a good basketball game.

Clarence F. Pyle—general science—A love for music and a fondness for horses and woodworking, combined with a knowledge of general science, explain Mr. Pyle's popularity among the students.

Robert Reed—biology—Mr. Reed lives, breathes, eats, and sleeps biology. His enthusiasm is contagious among his students. His favorite pets are snakes and skunks.

Charles Revello—wood shop—A former student of Somerset High School, Mr. Revello is friendly and helpful.

Robert Sanner—world history—Mr. Sanner, our new world history teacher likes Somerset High School as much as a teacher as he liked it as a student.

Chester J. Singer—instrumental music—Mr. Singer is a New York University graduate whom we congratulate for a wonderful band and thank for all its first prizes.

Kathryn Snyder—English—Reading books, traveling abroad, plus illustrated teaching make up our good-natured Sophomore English teacher.

Charles Stombaugh—math, history—A Penn State graduate who likes to spend his spare time hunting, Mr. Stombaugh has one pet peeve—Monday.

Robert Watkins—math—This well-built gentleman with the crew-cut is one of our most popular faculty members. He is assistant football coach.

Carl Waugaman—head football coach, health—Mr. Waugaman has a way with boys and curfew hours. Being highly thought of by his team, he is responsible for ideals of sportsmanship.

G. Carl Wengert—vocational coordinator — Well-remembered, Mr. Wengert left Somerset High School at semesters to teach at Chambersburg.

David Yule—head basketball coach, physical education—Mr. Yule, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, always manages to have a winning team.

Mr. Kritzer, Mrs. Jock, Mr. Watkins, and Mr. Stombaugh enjoy a weekly Tri-Hi-Y tea.

"Yes, Miss Snyder, we'll change it again."

We did!

We passed postal inspection.

Good-bye to the era of the bobby-sox, the saddle shoes and the varsity sweater. Good-bye to the happiest days of our lives.

Do you remember when we had our first get-together, the Freshman Hallowe'en Party? No one knew who the girl with the long blonde curls was. She turned out to be Carl Dumbauld! Those were the days when we worshipped the big Seniors. We nearly busted a button over Jim Lohr, who made the varsity football squad.

The next fall we returned to these hallowed halls as Sophomores, a little more experienced in the ways of the world. That was the year that we began to show a little promise. We planned our Soph-Senior with that flurry of importance that comes with your first big job. The morning of the dance everyone dashed around getting their slips signed to get out of as many classes as possible. That evening the couples stepped from the cold gray outdoors into a wonderland under the sea, "Neptune's Garden." They danced in the blue light among tropical fishes and coral. Also that year we piled aboard five school busses for the annual Sophomore trip to the big city, Pittsburgh. At the zoo we were held up by three Sophomores who got lost. Imagine! But in spite of all this, back at school the upperclassmen were beginning to notice us. The battle was finally won.

As Juniors we began to show some individuality. We were proud of our class, and rightfully so. In the months that followed we settled down to earth again to plan our Junior prom, but we came to grips as to what would be our theme. The boys wanted a Mardi Gras, and later a Penthouse; the girls preferred a Peppermint Ball. There was many an hour spent after school and at noontime arguing, with such remarks as, "When I think of peppermint, all I can see are little boys with sticky fingers," or "Who ever saw a peppermint bawl?" From these remarks you can conclude who won. Of course it was the girls, and we had the Peppermint Ball. Around the dance floor stood huge sticks of peppermint, and peeping around them were little gnomes, old and young, some bald and some in polka-dotted pants. The girls were busy admiring everyone else's formal, and the boys were trying not to look too self-conscious. Our Prom was a success, too. All good things come to an end, and our Junior year was one of them. Of course it ended with a bang. That bang was the Tug of War. For days before the annual rivalry we came to school to see the Senior colors floating from the smokestack, and, lo and behold, one morning we arrived at school to find Junior colors atop a greased flagpole. Repercussions followed, and some Junior boys stayed after school removing purple and white crepe paper from the trees and wiping grease from the flag pole. At night our boys were practicing constantly for the big event. The boys went to Gnagey's pool to practice, after which they all took midnight swims. When the pulling started, the girls stood back and knew that everything was up to the boys. Our wonderful Junior teams won against those high-flying Seniors.

When we returned from summer vacation, there was a sadness about it, for never again would we start a year in Somerset High. The months went fast with the Senior Class Play, magazine sales, and all the other wonderful things that are memories now. Finally there was Baccalaureate and Commencement, and sadly we paused with a lump in our throats for one last good-bye to our Alma Mater.

Nice doggy.
We use Pepsodent toothpaste.

SENIORS

Connie's friendly smile and cheerful personality have won her many friends at S. H. S. Bob plans to be the future shortstop of the Yankees, but in the off season he'll be hunting and fishing. Ron, a mechanical student, wants baseball as a profession, with hunting and fishing as pastimes. Where there are skating and dancing, there is Toots, future needle and thread expert. Ruthie, who loves band and football, scoots all over town in that little black Ford. Pretty and soft-spoken Vicki is pleasant to know, and will be a successful secretary. Sparkling eyes and a spicy personality make up the surprise package known as Sue. Always wearing a smile, Jane can be seen driving a blue 88 Oldsmobile. Jo, whose ambition is to be an efficient secretary, likes good-looking men, dancing, and moonlight strolls. Bett's long brown hair and expressive eyes help to make her an interesting girl. Gail is bound to make some lucky man happy, for her hobby is collecting recipes. Ruth is stitching a definite path towards a career as a seamstress with her F. H. A. work.

Lona, pleasant and soft-spoken, is ambitious to become a missionary overseas. Like her name, Leoma beams out with fiery red hair and freckles. Bob runs the mile, but would prefer to travel in a Cadillac, if he owned one. Jazzy, piano-playing Professor's hope is to be successful in music or science. Alice will certainly be in wonderland if her wishes to travel and to be successful come true. Jeanie's got some gray matter under those curls, and hopes to enter the business world. "Roach," a future meat packer, likes girls and flying model planes. He is active in the Junior Historians. Considering Delores' personality, all patients under her care should get along fine. Here's hoping that Nancy's way with people will land her a good job. The gridiron will certainly be hot when Dean is out there coaching the winning team. Charlie enjoys drive-in movies, but dislikes stuck-up and bashful girls. Dot, an ardent baseball fan, is ambitious to be a secretary.

SENIORS

Elwood, one of the quieter members of our class, hopes to be a successful auto mechanic. Auto shop and wrestling rate high with Lee, who dreams of owning a gas station. After riding school busses for four years, Monk still wants to travel. A capable mechanic is Jim, who is also on the S.H.S. street patrol. Gladys looks forward to a nursing career; she is happy roller skating or going to the movies. The future will find Harold a forest ranger, but the present finds him interested in girls and food. Nancy evidently likes children as well as sports, since she's going to become an elementary teacher. Max, a future auto mechanic, spends his time feasting his eyes on beautiful blondes. A liking for cars should make Allan, an all-around nice fellow, a fine doctor for them. A quiet guy, Bob is a whiz when it comes to history. "Aw come on; let's play some golf," can be heard from Wee-Gee, an attractive girl with a diabolical sense of humor. Bob doesn't mind working and hopes to become a mechanic after he graduates.

Janet can be found at most athletic events and wants to become a lawyer's secretary. Reverend loves to hunt and fish, but he dreams of an army career after graduation. Bob likes to roam around, but hopes to end up as a machinist in a defense plant. Porkey, with his catching smile and superior ability to ask questions, will be at home in any court room. Don can usually be found around the auto shop where he is working for his future with the Standard Oil Company. Chipmunk, a future beautician, will make her customers happy by singing as she works. Joe's thoughts wander to big league baseball after receiving his diploma. Ed stays clear of cowboying on the highway and peacefully goes hunting or fishing. "Number please!" accompanied by a quiet, shy voice can be only D. D. Being alone is Dummy's pet peeve, while band, orchestra, and his hobby, photography, rate high with him. Our senior skyscraper, Clarence hopes someday to be able to own a farm of his own. Carol, the competent President of our Student Council, will go far with her winning personality and scholastic ability.

Jo, a future secretary, goes for spaghetti and meat balls in a big way, but hates snob-bish people. Shirley, with her sweet person-ality, will make a wonderful nurse in the near future. Paul is studying to be a machinist; for entertainment he chooses hunting and swimming. Wayne, who is quite a ladies' man, plans someday to become an auto mechanic. Toots won't have to worry about the man shortage, as she is already ringed to Ken. Bernie, one of the smallest members of our class, has high hopes and plans for becoming a missionary. Don wants to be an auto me-chanic and enjoys hunting and shooting as a member of our rifle club. To Frannie, the main thing in life is to be a success in any task which she attempts. Our Blondie, Verna is looking forward to a happy career of nursing. Telford ranks as one of our leading cornet players and enjoys anything connected with music. We hope Rose's future as a success-ful secretary will be as rosy as her name. Issy, who is reserved but cooperative, will make the perfect secretary for some business-man.

SENIORS

A mushball player, Bob hopes someday to be either a naval engineer or a master mechanic. Lou longs to accomplish her goal in life, which may include black wavy hair and a Chevrolet from Maryland. Susan's our future Florence Nightingale, with a taste for clothes and an enthusiasm for cheerleading. Blue-eyed and blonde, Citty rates football and driving a car as tops, but ill-mannered people don't stand a chance. Quiet and handsome, Gene thinks an ideal day consists of sleeping and swimming. Ed, who plans to be a doctor, does exceptionally well as a drummer in the band and orchestra. Bunk, the guy with the curly hair, is an expert on carburetors, fuel pumps, and flat tires. Shirl wants her future life to be successful and full of dancing and horseback riding. Hen, the popular three-year football letterman and future car dealer with a million-dollar sense of humor, likes sports and girls. Ellen, who enjoys cooking and baking, especially for Tri-Hi-Y teachers' teas, hopes to become a secretary. Kitty's ambition to become a foreign missionary will take her far away from Meversdale. Bett's time is spent usefully in the F. H. A., for she hopes to become a good housewife.

SENIORS

Harriette's winning smile will do wonders in her desire for a successful future. Barb, quiet, friendly, and always cheerful, will make the ideal beautician. Pat, a member of the Eaglet business staff, dislikes snobbish people and homework. Devilish and always smiling, Hot Rod Heiple enjoys blondes, sports, and fast cars. George, ambitious to travel, likes football and people with sensible suggestions. While planning for her future as a secretary, Iowana enjoys traveling in her spare time. Jeannie has great possibilities and high hopes of becoming a concert pianist. Mick, quiet and reserved, seems to like smoking guns better than smoking girls. Goldie, interested in track and football, plans a future as a truck driver or machinist. Fat Boy, a member of the photoplay club, hopes to be an automobile mechanic. Dean, who aims for a career as a doctor, considers football and dixieland jazz good deals. Ray is an all around guy who beats a wicked drum in our S. H. S. band.

As well as being an active member of the band, Jim manages to keep his friends laughing. Horseback riding and Chevrolet convertibles rate high with Paul. Ready wit and sparkling personality make up a peppy cheerleader called Keef. When we gaze into our crystal ball, we see Ace entertaining the world, as he tours it. Doug is an all-around fellow in sports besides being an A-1 student. Lois, better known as Blondie, desires to be a private secretary. One of our famed hunters, Jim also goes for shop, loafing, and blondes. Dorothy's ability to play the piano is sure to help make her a successful music teacher. Bud is a future farmer who delights in driving a new Chev, or else just hiking. Janet is a fine seamstress who likes music and wants to become a missionary. Margaret aims to be a nurse and enjoys spending all her leisure time in the library. Bob delights in building hot rods and has a keen interest in becoming the driver of a race car. Sam, with her quiet and efficient manner, is sure to become a successful secretary. Ann, a future decorator and designer, is also a whiz at roller skating. Whether teasing the girls, sleeping through class, or winning a wrestling match, Bob remains happy. Bob, an ardent sportsman, would like to spend his future as a machinist. Max, who hopes to be an auto doctor, takes delight in women and fast cars. Harold is an ardent wrestling fan who hopes someday to be a professional in that field.

SENIORS

Osra frowns upon homework but enjoys cheering our football team to victory at every game. Earl is a future auto mechanic whose greatest joy is driving his car. George, an outstanding member of our football and wrestling squads, plans to own a service station. Helping others and cooking are specialties for Almeda, who hopes to clerk in one of Somerset's stores. Travel, science, and chorus create a three-way tie on Ray's hit parade. Marge, our sweet songstress, wants merchandising as a career, with records, reading, and dancing as pastimes. Tinting photographs and driving a thirty-six Buick rate tops with Eleanor. To Beaty, a future Florence Nightingale, basketball games, dancing, and band rate high. Jimmy, a future businessman, is known by all as one of the football team's most powerful guards. With her quiet but cheerful disposition, Marjorie will make a perfect nurse. Petite and quiet with a contagious giggle, Ruth is liked by everyone. Band and roller skating rate with Needie, who after school plans to enter nursing.

Don, another future doctor of cars, was a faithful member of our football team. Ron, active member of the anti-homework movement, is a future star of the major leagues. Lively and energetic Annie, who likes all athletics, particularly football and basketball, looks forward to settling down someday. George, with a quiet drawl and a wry grin, hasn't yet decided how he is going to set the world on fire. Red runs the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and wants to make his career in the air. When not working toward his coveted diploma, Dean devotes spare moments to women and travel. Ken, most contented in the machine shop, enjoys sports but doesn't care much for classes. Hess, who's always ready with a helping hand, will certainly be a successful dietitian. Skip desires to see the world, but has a genuine dislike for work. Ward likes to play baseball and go hunting, and wants to spend his future with Uncle Sam.

SENIORS

Smitty is a quiet machine shop boy whose only desire is to receive his sheepskin. Fred, a future marine, is happy while riding around in his car, sleeping, or loafing. Herby, a real sportsman, thinks that later on driving a truck would be fine. June Bug, husky Eagle full-back, raises rabbits and guinea pigs, and plans to become a machinist. Andy has high hopes for seeing the world with a vivacious red-headed woman. Maggie, a future secretary, likes basketball games, popular music and reading, but conceited people chill her. Sports, especially track, rate high with Bill, who yearns to become a rough and rugged he-man. With pep, poise, and personality, Joyce, a future secretary, is every fellow's ideal. Born with talent for art, Ray will make a perfect model or designer. An expert at the charleston is Ann, a vivacious redhead, whose future is in the field of horticulture. A. J. intends to become a poultryman; a faithful band member, he is hypnotized by blue-eyed blondes. Jack, who is a great ball fan, plans to join the Marines after he finishes his studies.

SENIORS

Ruthie, our 1952 Maple Queen, likes sharp clothes and has a knack of placing beauty on a canvas. Betsy is an ardent member of the ushers club who plans to be a bookkeeper. Chubby, who's headed toward the ownership of a trucking firm, admits that baseball is his first love. Ralph, a loyal member of the F. F. A. desires to become a successful farmer. Speedy, a demon in a car, hopes to become a nurse. Barb, an outstanding Junior Historian, is a loyal rooter at every sports event. Scientifically inclined, Dick is headed for the top in the pharmaceutical field. For relaxation, he enjoys sports and books. Albert, a future welder, is happiest driving his Old's convertible and playing basketball. If you're a blonde or if you enjoy eating, you'll be well liked by Jerry. Larry, decidedly loyal to S.H.S. can't stand romantic movies and books, likes algebra, and is a spirited tease. "Scout" Zerfoss is one of our loyal traffic directors who wants to become an expert accountant. Pat, a future Dorothy Kilgallen, is an individualist who doesn't readily conform to the usual procedures.

PRIZE PACKAGES

First Class Mail

We are proud to present the cream of the crop. These are the Seniors chosen by their classmates for their outstanding qualities.

Mr. and Miss Senior, Jim Lohr and Joyce Tedrow, are two of our most attractive and prominent students. Joyce and Jim both held leads in the Senior Class Play. Jim completed his fourth year as a Varsity football player. He was also on the track team, the basketball team, and the National Honor Society. Joyce was on the Eaglet Literary Staff, and was also a member of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Ann Varner and Douglas Kerin were elected the most popular Seniors. Both were in the Senior Class Play, the National Honor Society, and the Eaglet Staffs. They are liked by everyone who knows them.

After meeting Ruth Walker and Carl Dumbauld, you would think you had just seen a traveling fashion show. They both have an eye for style and are always neatly dressed. Ruthie, our representative to the Maple Queen contest, was named Maid of Honor.

Carol Edmonson and Mark Beech are the brains of our class. They excel not only in scholastic work, but also in personality. Both are members of the National Honor Society and the Eaglet Literary Staff.

Among all the Seniors who attend school dances, Dean Bowman and Connie Adams are by far the most graceful and versatile. Both are on the Eaglet Staff.

Barbara Rosbaugh and Larry Gnagey are two of our outstanding athletes. Barb is a varsity cheerleader, and plays an outstanding part in intramural sports. With Larry on our forward wall, we had no trouble holding our football opponents.

We complete the list with our two first-rate comedians. Everyone enjoys a big laugh when Nate and Shirley are up to their usual tricks. Shirley is one of our cheerleaders. Nate is an outstanding athlete as well as a member of the Eaglet Business Staff and the National Honor Society.

"You'll have a roomful of roses—"

As we leave Somerset High School, we think of the class that will fill our shoes next year. The Junior Class was one of the most outstanding groups in school. They were busy bees who buzzed in many activities, game concessions, and assembly programs.

Many of the junior boys were active in sports. Class president Bob Lape and his brother Bill, John DelVecchio, John Williams, and the three Bobs—Brown, Blank, and Flick, were all members of our winning football squad. Other Juniors were on the basketball and track teams. Sally Johnston and Grace Benjamin were varsity cheerleaders, while Lois Sechler was a member of the junior varsity squad.

The band is another hangout for the Junior Class. Lee Ann Shaffer, Tootie Baker, Pat Mason, Sandy Hare, and Nancy Bittner were our leading majorettes, and the drum major was another Junior, Harold Male. The band Juniors' talents ranged from the flute, which Jackie Lytle and Alice Egolf play, and the clarinet section, which is represented by Norma Hottle and Margaret Svonavec, to the baritone, with Charles Doherty presiding.

The class has its share of swell guys and girls like Johnny Stoy, Gene Schrock, Jane Graham, Arlene Glessner, and Mary Ann Coleman.

The Juniors have been successful since their freshman year, when they gathered for their Freshman Hallowe'en Party. Their Sophomore year they journeyed to Pittsburgh and gave a wonderful dance, The Windmill Whirl. This year they honored us with a beautiful Prom, and we pulled them through the mud in return.

As we leave, we wish the Senior Class of '53 all the success, hard work, and good times we had here.

Heading for the end of the route.

Our sister class is crammed full of sparkling personalities—personalities who will soon take our places in the classroom, in extracurricular activities, and especially in sports. Our peppy cheerleaders will be replaced by these vivacious J. V.'s: Julia Varner, Sandra Del Vecchio, and Gwenny Bowlby. The football team will not be found lacking either, with Ronnie Enfield's intelligent toe expertly sending the ball into the necessary places and with Bill Marsh's grab and run technique. And we can't forget the way Jack Younkin handles a basketball. It takes only a quick look around to see that this class would come in tops in a beauty contest. To mention a couple—there are Peggy Tedrow, a tiny blonde with loads of zip, and Patty Rhodes, a pretty, dark-eyed majorette. Now we'll hand the femmes a few tips. Lynn Shober-um-m-m, Tommy ~~er~~er-ah-h-h, and Mario Betta-hm-m-m. Need we say more?

The Sophomore Class under its officers, Jerry Halverson, Bill Marsh, Sandra Del Vecchio, and Julia Varner, is bound to go far and will eventually make S. H. S. proud to say, "These are graduates of Somerset High School, Class of '54."

Ready for Classification

Meet the Seniors of 1955! The Freshman class has shown true prospects for the future. They have proven to possess an excess of good talent and are filled to the brim with real ambition and enthusiasm.

Despite their accustomed name, "Greenie," they were always found at every football and basketball game. Their cry was heard above all else, cheering our team to victory.

Attractive members such as Eleanor Whipple and Tait Stewart may be easily found. Freshman like Dottie Courtney and Melissa Luteri helped to keep the right spirit up. Fellows such as Guy Eberhart aided in leading the class to top honors.

This large group is soon to place members in all activities. They are sure to accomplish much in the line of success in years to come. We, the Seniors of 1952, wish them all the luck that can be found.

While walking down the hall near the east end of the building, one sees many vivacious eighth graders dodging in and out of the crowd. The members of this class are very active in school affairs. To mention several members who are particularly outstanding, there are Nancy Braucher, an accomplished clarinetist, and Millie Matthews, a talented artist and writer. Their outstanding basketball team predicts a championship team in the future years. Listed among their other activities are band, cheerleading, and football. Good luck to the class of 1956 from the class of 1952.

The traditional title, Greenies, always applied to seventh graders, has had to be dropped from this year's class. They have adjusted so readily to the routine of our high school that it is hard to believe them newcomers. As members of S. H. S., they have enjoyed the privilege of becoming part of the rooting section at their first football and basketball games. As of yet it is too early to distinguish the outstanding, but there are indications of a promising future for this already active class.

Adams Twp.: The Eagles opened the season against the Adams Twp. Hornets at Sidman. The seasoned Hornet's attack proved to be too much for the Eagles, and the Frosty Sons of Thunder went down to a hard fought defeat, the score being 27-6.

Bedford: After gaining a 7-0 halftime lead, it seemed apparent that the Eagles had finally hit their stride. However the Bedford Bisons refused to be denied, and they set back the Birdies 20-7. This was the second straight loss for the Eagles.

Berlin: After two previous defeats the Eagles encountered the Berlin Mountaineers. In this tussle an exhibition of some of the hardest blocking and tackling of the season by the Eagles took place. When the dust cleared from the field the Birdies led 65-0.

Meyersdale: With the victory of Berlin not yet forgotten, the arch-rival Meyersdale came to town. Here the Eagles found little opposition and the Red Raiders went home on the short end of the score, which was 27-6.

Richland: The highly-touted Rams, who were supposed to be the first big test of the campaign since the opening games of the season, were swung down into the losing column by Somerset's high flying Eagles without much trouble. The score was 33-6.

Ligonier: The Ligonier Mountaineers were next in line for the red-hot Eagles. In this knock'm-down drag'm out contest the Eagles showed their full strength on offense as well as defense and wound up on the long end of a 21-0 score.

Boswell: After winning four straight, the Eagles journeyed to Boswell for the battle with their traditional rivals. The Eagles could not hold the pace of the previous weekend and were defeated by the Bears. The score was 13-6.

Westmont: Early in the game, finding the ground attack stopped, the Birdies were forced to take to the air. With excellent passing and several spectacular catches, the Eagles were able to upset the Hilltoppers and win by a score of 19-6.

Cresson: From the opening whistle it was evident that this would be a bitterly fought contest. The game continued on this scoreless level until the final 40 seconds when the Eagles bulled over a touchdown and successfully completed the extra point to win 7-0.

Conemaugh Twp.: In the season's finale the Eagles were pitted against a top ranking Conemaugh Twp. outfit. The Eagles were outscored 27-0, but not outplayed. This was the final game of a successful season and the final high school game for a number of Eagle seniors.

the starting whistle

Robert Becker—Aggressive line backer, really possesses the old college try, rough and ready.

Mark Beech—Good passer and play-caller.

Dean Bowman—Center, one of the field leaders, played almost every minute of the game, always turned in a fine performance, overflowing with competitive spirit.

Bernard Derencin—Reserve passer and understudy at the blocking back spot, competitive spirit made him an asset to the squad.

Larry Gnagey—Bonecrusher, made All-Tribune Team for two years, known for his defensive playing, but also outstanding on offense.

Robert Holt—Goldie, reserve center, dependable and ready when needed.

Dean Hottle—Rugged guard, specialized in mouse trap plays, bearcat on defense, hampered by knee injury.

Doug Kerin—Two year man on left end, fine defensive player.

Bill Kuhlman—Rugged tackler, the brains behind the Eagles. Although he never made the headlines, he was a vital blocker as well as a defensive spearhead.

Jim Lohr—Jimbo, held down a Varsity position for four years, looking forward to college ball.

Bob Miller—Great on end runs, fastest man on the team, made an excellent showing the latter part of the season.

George Patrick—Although coached as a tackle he held down a defensive guard spot, and woe to the opposing linesmen.

Jim Pickett—Speedy guard, specialized in pulling out, rough on defense and a good down field blocker.

William Ripple—Rip, fine offensive tackle, extremely aggressive, likes it rough.

Cliff Schilling—Powerful defensive tackle, specialized in on-side kickoffs.

Don Sechler—Hard luck man of the year, turned in many fine performances in spite of numerous injuries.

Herb Stahl—Well-muscled wing back, quick getaway and speed made him a natural for single wing reverse.

Walt Stanczyk—Fullback, hard driver as well as very elusive runner, bucks over tackle gained yards when they were most needed.

Gerald Younkin—Glue fingers, right end constantly hampered by injuries, best when the chips were down.

BASKETBALL

Mr. Yule gives Telford Fleegle the keys to the kingdom.

District Five Championship C. O. D.

Our '52 basketball team started the year like the '50 team—slow. Only one regular starter from last year remained. The first few games were mostly heartbreakers, one or two points spelling defeat. As the year progressed, so did the team. Line-up changes took place almost every game. Doug Kerin and Dean Bowman were the only regulars the complete season, except when out with sickness. Jim Lohr, Cliff Schilling and Nathan Rascona alternated between starting on the floor and on the bench. Juniors Bill and Bob Lape did not get started until mid-season. One Sophomore, Ron Enfield, skyscraper of the team at 6' 2", rounded out the squad.

Bob Lape led the scoring parade with two 20 point first halves, and an average of about fourteen points a game. The fact that he did not play much the first dozen games kept his average down. Doug often came through with a brilliant last quarter, looking as if he couldn't miss. However, no one was hot the third quarter, which led to many a downfall.

Tip it this way!

The hard work in practice made it possible for us to win important games from Boswell and Berlin, giving a three way tie in the class A District 5 tourney, the deciding game at Berlin being played amidst the uproar of an overflowing crowd. We broke the game open in the last quarter and won 61 to 52. Berlin beat Boswell in the playoffs, and we journeyed to Conemaugh to trim Berlin and emerge District 5 champs for another year.

Much of the credit for the success of our team goes to coach Dave Yule who led our boys through their rough beginning to their usual winning ways.

TRACK . . .

Now in his second year at S. H. S., Mr. Kritzer developed even more from the track team this year than last year. One of the main reasons for this is that he had veterans at almost all positions. Last year's practice of permitting only seniors with previous experience to try out their skills was abandoned.

Lohr, Becker, Bowman, Derencin, Bill Lape,

Sandusky, Bob Miller, DelVecchio, Stanczyk, Marsh, and Rascona were the main cogs in the team.

This squad was much more balanced than the team of last year. All in all we enjoyed a very successful season in track competition this year.

VARSITY "S" CLUB

Jim Lohr and Larry Gnagey figure up some trouble for our opponents.

Always deliver the goods at the right time.

The "S" Club is largely an honorary society for the athletes of Somerset High School who have spent enough time in inter-school competition to be awarded a letter in a major sport.

In football and basketball, a boy must have one over half of all the quarters played by the team that season to qualify for membership. In track one must have a certain number of points.

The meetings of this club are held weekly with the football club. Meetings during football season consist largely of studying new plays, ironing out mistakes, and hearing scouting reports of the coming game.

After football season is over, some time is spent in review of the past season. As the year goes by, movies become the important thing on the agenda. These movies are mostly of leading college teams, especially those which use the same offensive formation as the Eagles use.

This club is very important to the athletic program of S. H. S. because it tends to knit the members into a well-organized team.

WRESTLING

We of Somerset High can be justly proud of our Eagle wrestling squad. During the 1951-1952 season the Orange and Black matmen, led for the second consecutive year by diminutive Coach Joseph Maslak, compiled an improved season record of five wins and seven losses, the best in recent years. Standout on the squad was Dean Smith, who won eleven of twelve matches in scheduled meets and became P.I.A.A. District 5 champ in the one hundred thirty-eight pound class without having a point scored against him. Jim Kinsinger lost the championship of the one hundred three pound class by a referee's decision for the second time in two years. Others of the squad who made a good showing in the District 5 eliminations were George Patrick, Bob Ankeny, Leland Brant, Dean Griffith, and Bill Moyer. Also impressive was Don Sechler, who was eliminated unluckily by a head injury. All in all it was another successful season for wrestling in S. H. S.

CHEERLEADERS

Bring the stamp of enthusiasm to our team

"Here come the Eagles; let 'em pass" . . . With a swirl of white skirts and a flash of smiles the game has officially begun. This sextet has the unenviable task of bringing out all the vim, vigor, and vitality left in the student body of S. H. S. Despite sprained ankles, sore backs, and aching joints, they have come through with flying colors.

Thanks for a job well done.

Although the varsity squad this year will be hard hit by graduation, there is no need for worry, as the J. V.'s are more than capable of taking over. They have proven their ability at numerous basket ball and football games and pep meetings.

The third string has practiced diligently in order to step into the J. V. positions. Keep up the good work, kids.

Our Student Council is an active organization of student government in Somerset High School. It is composed of a member representative from each home room in the building and headed by a president chosen by the entire student body in the spring of the year.

Some of the activities that the council undertakes during the course of the school year include selling tickets and being of general assistance at all school activities and directing the hall patrol system. All such events as bundle drives, relief drives for food and clothing, and gifts for the Children's Aid Home fall under the authority of the Council.

During the past year, our student council was privileged to have guests from Turkeyfoot Joint High School who had just organized their council and wanted to observe ours in action.

Student government is encouraged by the administration as a practical experience in a working democracy. One of the main functions of the council is to act as an intermediary between the authority of the administration and the actions of the students. Within the council, all the members have ample opportunity to learn and practice civil authority and to become better acquainted with the problems of government.

Mrs. Friedhofer, the sponsor of the organization, keeps the meetings lively and is a real companion and advisor of the students.

Say, I wouldn't mind keeping this coat myself!

The news-hounds always get their man.

Every two weeks S. H. S. patrons dug deep into their pockets, found a nickel, bought an S. O. S., and read about personalities and latest events around school. "Scoops of Somerset" is advised by Mr. A. C. McKee. This year it became a member of the Pennsylvania School Paper Association.

The staff had its own office equipped with a new typewriter. Friday found the room in general confusion to meet the press deadline. Editors Helen Rock and Shirley Egolf searched for last minute news, Carol Edmonson pounded out a feature, and sports editors Bowman and Hottle racked brains for a catchy headline. Fred Lambert and A. J. Walker coped with all financial problems. With the aid of an efficient staff, all scheduled papers rolled off the press.

The National Honor Society is an organization for the purpose of acknowledging outstanding work, both scholastic and extra-curricular, in high school. Only Juniors and Seniors are eligible for membership to this society. The faculty members vote on those and pick the new members.

Each year there are two elections. Not more than 15 per cent of the class membership may belong to the Society.

Under President Douglas Kerin, this year's organization determined to engage itself in some constructive activity. This resulted in the decoration of the front of the building at Christmas time. Then we planned and executed a dinner for the new members prior to their induction the last of March.

add variety to our daily life at Somerset High

Every Thursday third period the almost thirty clubs in Somerset High School have their regular weekly meeting in the various class rooms. Almost all the students belong to a club, as there is a club to suit every desire, interest, and ambition. Membership in a club tends to enrich the students' school life by developing their ability to get along with others and their gift for leadership.

One of the most outstanding clubs in Somerset High School is the Student Council which governs the student body and keeps the hall traffic running smoothly. Another leading club is the Tri-Hi-Y which sponsors the weekly teachers' teas and the Red Cross drive in our school. The Pep Club's purpose is to arouse school spirit at our games. At football games and at dismissal time, the School Patrol can be found directing traffic. For those dramatically inclined there are three dramatic clubs from which to choose. We feel that the clubs have given the students a great deal of pleasure throughout the school year.

VOCAL MUSIC

singing telegram.*

Our choral program, which includes the mixed chorus, girls' chorus, and boys' chorus, is under the able direction of Mr. Philip Holsinger. The mixed chorus is the largest group, composed of approximately one hundred and fifty students from grades ten, eleven and twelve. Presenting a program for open house and special assemblies, and attending the county mixed chorus festival were annual events. A smaller chorus was selected from the mixed chorus for the Christmas and Easter programs. The most outstanding activity this year was our spring concert, which required a lot of extra work. The boys' chorus could be heard practicing before school on Wednesday mornings. The girls' chorus met during club period. They have presented programs for assemblies. Participating in our choral programs makes our school days more pleasant.

MUSIC

Mr. Singer's guiding hands.

Concerts, parades and half-time shows

Somerset High School produced this year one of the best concert bands ever to adorn its stage. The band also helped to cheer the football team to victory at every game, and favored the fans with a brilliant display of talent at the half-time.

Every time something special came along the band was right there to help out.

On March the fifth the band presented its concert to the student body, and it was received with much ovation. Again on March the seventh it presented its concert to the public. The audience was small, but everyone present had a very enjoyable evening.

The orchestra was just as active this year as it has been in the past. On the way to assembly its sweet refrains could be heard floating gently through the halls until each student had found his seat. It also played for such events as the Senior Class Play and Open House.

Row 3: Miller, Whitehill, Egolf, Rosbaugh, Pickett, Pile, Hershey, Male, Housel, Garlitz, Barchey, Halverson, Dumbauld, Watkins, Trent.

The orchestra and mixed chorus went together to present their spring concert, which was met with great approval.

This year we were lucky enough to have two music festivals held in our school. They were District Orchestra on January 10, 11, and 12 and County Band on March 27, 28, and 29.

The Pep Band played at almost every Friday night basketball game, with the majorettes putting on the half-time show.

Also, after two basketball games the dance band played for dances.

Of course we all realize that none of this would have been possible without the capable aid of our friendly musical genius, Mr. Singer.

JANUARY THAW . . .

We melted the ice in November

Howdy, Uncle Walter!

Thanks for a wonderful time.

And please help Matt not to get into no more trouble

We're going to be married!

Fire, Daddy, fire!

Didn't get into Canada, eh?

Our back-stage shows were second only to the real production

On a typical wintry evening in November the Seniors came through to melt the ice with January Thaw.

At our rehearsals Carl Dumbauld, along with Mark Beech and Jim Lohr, tried the patience of our two directors, Mrs. Cindric and Mrs. Friedhofer. Carl spent his time riding the folding-chair racks backstage, and poking a stick through a hole in the scenery trying to hit someone. Backstage Mark proved to be a thorn in everyone's side. For some strange reason an actor trying to get off stage could never get the door open. Jim had a hard time getting into the swing of the love scenes, but practice made perfect!

Refreshments were served at the beginning of each rehearsal—mainly lollipops and potato chips. A few talented members of the cast, armed with dime store instruments and pencils for drumsticks, took part in a jam session starring Mark Beech with "Down Yonder," our theme song, on the piano, and featuring Fred Lambert and Jim Lohr on drums. Bernard Derencin, who earned the name of "Lover Boy" at dress rehearsal, was in his prime. Nathan, unusually quiet, proved to be the scholar by faithfully pursuing his studies in the front row.

Despite all this the glittering opening night arrived, and we survived the test with just a few mishaps which really enlivened the show. Once Susan Funk yelled her line, "Hey, the lights!", then waited a few red-faced seconds till the stage crew found the switch to turn them off. A few moments earlier in the play Douglas Kerin struggled vainly for five minutes to unfold and set up a canvas chair. Our little piggy squealed offstage long before his cue, but at our closing performance, his fourth, he remained as silent and still as death.

Jeannie Meyers and Ray Pfrogner were superb in ad-libbing dialogue while waiting for Mark Beech, who never hit a cue until the final rehearsal.

Our final rehearsal closed with a cake and ice cream party given by our directors, Mrs. Cindric and Mrs. Friedhofer!

We celebrated the closing of the play with a party at Green Gables.

M. Beech, D. Kerin,
A. Varner, N. Rascona

Our Eaglet Literary Staff this year consisted of twenty-two members, some of whom alternated the regular Thursday morning meetings with their various clubs.

Mrs. Cindric, our boss, prepared the outline copy and assisted Mr. Gradler, who took all the photos. We went on from there, identifying faces, writing captions, planning poses, and writing articles about various clubs and classes.

The typing staff turned our scribbled write-ups into neat, business-like articles. Shirley Ann Miller was in charge of this group.

Our art staff consisted of Ruth Walker and Ray Ellen Vannear. They carried out the theme by designing the postcards and letters that adorn these pages.

The Business Staff, under Douglas Kerin, had charge of the money matters of our yearbook. These included magazine sales which really hit the top as we went all out to sell over $4,000.00 worth, a brand new school record. Unable to obtain concessions, we relied solely upon our magazine and ad sales and subscriptions to finance our publications.

The result of a year's hard work you now hold in your hands. We hope it will always recall the days you spent in Somerset High.

Do you think we have enough?

Thanks a million to Mrs. Cindric for hounding us into completing our Eaglet.

to Mrs. Jock who encouraged us to make the Eaglet a successful business venture.

to Mr. Young, of the Pontiac Engraving Company, for his technical help.

to Mr. Walter L. Wyant of Kurtz Bros., for his advice and help in printing our book.

to Mr. Gradler, of Gradler Studios, for his clear-cut and vibrant photography.

to our patrons, whose support was proof of their interest in our success.

to you, our readers, whose desire for a record of our Senior Class made this book possible.
